

FYC 4202 YOUTH AND FAMILY RELATIONS

"We need to think of adolescence as a stage at which people can thrive if they take advantage of the opportunities. Stop thinking of it as something to be endured. That is a message we have to stop telling both parents and kids." Laurence Steinberg, Temple University

Available at: <https://www.degruyter.com/viewbooktoc/product/447873>.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will examine youth development within the family system. It will review basic theory and research on youth development and how it is linked with family development, family processes, and extended family systems. Using theory and research when working with youth and their families will be highlighted.

PREREQUISITE KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS

The course prerequisite is FYC 3001. If you do not have the prerequisite, please speak to the instructor. In addition, the following are recommended: (a) an awareness and basic understanding of youth development and family relations; (b) some background in theory from an undergraduate social science course; (c) professional writing skills at the advanced undergraduate level.

COURSE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

To develop an understanding of:

1. The theories, methodology, and research findings that form our knowledge base about youth development and family relationships.
2. How the parent-child relationship influences both healthy and unhealthy psychosocial development during adolescence and emerging adulthood;
3. The diversity of youth and family relationships and the ecological contexts in which they are embedded (e.g., culture/ethnicity, religion, socio-economic status, family structure, etc.).
4. The link between theory and research and the practical application of these principles to families with adolescents and emerging adults.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

READINGS

The student is expected to stay current with the reading assignments. The readings will provide the basis for class discussion and the student should read them prior to the class for which they are assigned.

ATTENDANCE & PARTICIPATION

In order to fulfill the objectives of this course it is expected that students attend class regularly and on time. Regular attendance both enhances the usefulness of class instruction as well as encourages better performance on assignments. Participation in class activities and discussions is also expected. During class activities, each student will use appropriate interpersonal skills and conduct themselves in a courteous and respectful manner.

LATE POLICY

Five (5) points per day will be deducted from all late assignments. Assignments are due online prior to the start of class and points will be deducted beginning 1 hour after the class ends. Assignments will not be accepted if they are more than 1 week late and a grade of zero will be given. If there are circumstances beyond your control that make it difficult to get your assignment in on time, it is your responsibility to contact the course instructor or TA as quickly as possible to explain the delay.

PHONES, COMPUTERS, AND OTHER ELECTRONICS

Cell phones should be stored away from view during class with the ringer on silent or off. Laptops can be used for instructional purposes only (e.g., note taking, group activities, etc.).

Texting, emailing, chatting, or surfing is not allowed as they are distracting to your classmates and the instructor. Photography and videos may not be taken during class.

EMAIL & INTERNET

All students are required to have Gatorlink email and to be able to access Canvas. You will be responsible for checking the FYC 4202 Canvas site at least three times a week for calendar, PowerPoints, assignments, e-mail, and posted announcements.

WRITTEN WORK

All written work for the course must comply with APA (6th Ed.) guidelines. That is, it must be typed on 8 1/2" X 11" white paper, 1" margins, and appropriate headings and subheadings. The font should be 11-12pt (Times New Roman or Arial). All papers should be proofread before they are turned in with special attention to correcting any and all spelling, grammatical, and punctuation errors. Professional use of the English language is expected. If you quote, paraphrase, or summarize the work of others, you must cite your source. Plagiarism will not be tolerated and can result in failure. For further information, see supplemental documents on APA formatting and common grammatical errors.

ASSIGNMENTS

The following assignments are required of all students. You must complete all assignments to pass the course. All written assignments must be submitted online through Canvas, which will use the TurnItIn originality tool; every assignment will be screened for plagiarism. The assignments are designed to promote critical thinking and to enhance professional writing skills. Due dates are listed in the tentative agenda. All assignments must follow the guidelines for written work. See supplemental documents on APA formatting and common grammatical errors.

PROJECT AND DEMONSTRATION

Three written projects will be due this semester. Details will be provided in class. In addition, you will have the opportunity to share one of your projects with the class. The demonstration can be no more than 5-8 minutes in length, and you must be prepared to speak and demonstrate (e.g., your demonstration should follow an outline). You will be graded on content, presentation skills, and timing. You will have the opportunity to sign up for the assignment you would like to demonstrate during the second week of class.

POP QUIZZES

Six pop quizzes will be given randomly throughout the semester. The quizzes will occur at the beginning of class and will take about 5 to 10 minutes to complete. The quizzes will consist of five questions based on the day's reading, which may include multiple choice and short answer questions. You will not be able to make up a pop quiz even if you are late to class that day. You must be in the classroom at the beginning of class in order to take the quiz. You may drop the lowest score on one of your quizzes.

EXAMS

Four exams will be given over the course of the semester. Response formats include true/false, multiple choice, and essay. Exam questions will cover class readings, class lectures/discussions, in-class activities, films, and all other course material.

Students must arrive to class on time on exam days. If you arrive more than 10 minutes late you will NOT be permitted to take the exam. Likewise, all Honor Code violations will be handled in accordance with UF Policy.

If an emergency prevents you from making any of the exams, it is your responsibility to contact the instructor or the TA as soon as possible to inform us of the reasons for your absence. If you find that you are unable to take an exam on the scheduled date, it is your responsibility to contact the instructor or TA as soon as possible to schedule an alternative time prior to the exam date.
