FYC3112 Family Problems and Interventions (5782) 19247 Fall 2018

Prerequisites

It is important for you to have already taken the following courses:
- FYC 3001 Introduction to Family, Youth and Community Sciences
- SYG 2000 Principles of Sociology, AND either
  - SYG 2430 Marriage and the Family
  - OR
  - FYC 3101 Parenting and Family Development
All with a grade of C or better

Note that the instructor reserves the right to adjust the syllabus as needed (e.g., to correct unseen errors and adjust to speaker schedules). This is version 1 as of July 2018

Overview of Course

Course Description

This course focuses on major social and family problems contemporary families face, including poverty, violence, and care of dependent elders. The course takes a family strengths and resiliency perspective and emphasizes resources that help families withstand and overcome difficulties. This course highlights the role of society in family problems.

Course Goal

The primary goal of this course is to answer the question, "How can we, as professionals, help changing families address the problems in their lives and support family resilience?" To answer this question, it will be important to understand families in their social and economic context, stressors they face, how they manage and cope, and factors that support resilience. A second goal of this course is that you will continue to build your professional competencies and skills for working with families, particularly empathy, critical thinking, and collaboration.

Key Concepts

1. Today’s U.S. families are diverse and changing.
2. Families experience numerous “problems” or stressors and changes throughout their lives.
3. Culture (in a broad sense) shapes family experiences and perspectives.

This course counts toward the Area of Specialization in Family Life Education for FYCS majors. See the section on CFLE for more information.
4. Theories of family stress, coping, and resilience help to explain and predict how families respond to stressors and changes in their lives.
5. Families can do well and even thrive when they have appropriate resources and coping strategies.
6. Family professionals assist families in coping with stress through human services, family therapy, family life education*, and family policy. The most effective interventions are those based on research showing what works well to help families address their problems.

Course Objectives
When you successfully complete this course, you will be able to:
1. Describe changing families and the “new normal” of U.S. family life.
2. Explain the factors that help families to manage stress and be resilient.
3. Describe several key issues U.S. families face.
4. Apply theories of family stress, coping and resilience to case examples.
5. Describe the importance of culture and context for family problems, strengths, and resilience.
6. Develop perspective-taking and empathy skills in relation to family problems.
7. Define and compare types of family interventions.
8. Apply family interventions appropriately to case examples.
9. Feel more confident about your knowledge for working with families.
10. Develop relevant professional skills: Manage assignments to meet set deadlines; follow ethical guidelines; continue to develop writing skills; build critical thinking skills; advance communication and interpersonal skills.
11. Synthesize knowledge of family problems, family theory, and family interventions to determine how best to assist families in case examples.

Certified Family Life Educator (CFLE)
This course counts for the Family Life Educator Area of Specialization in FYCS. Students who go through the FLE specialization are eligible for two certificates, one from UF and one from the National Council on Family Relations (NCFR), a professional organization. You will receive the UF certificate through a two-step application process. You can receive the CFLE, provisional from the National Council on Family Relations after you have completed all the course and practicum requirements, graduated, and applied. This national, professional CFLE designation confirms that you have completed the necessary basic training for family life education. If you need more information about becoming a CFLE through FYCS, please contact Dr. Smith or your FYCS advisor.

Required Texts and Readings
   • Make sure you get the 5th Edition (2016) of this book! Get the blue cover, not the green cover.
   • This book will be on reserve in the library and one chapter will be on electronic reserves. You are welcome to purchase it ISBN: 9781452270005 (pbk)
3. A book you choose from a list of alternatives for the final projects.
4. Other readings are also required and are listed on the syllabus by due date. Be sure to consult the syllabus for readings due on assigned days and instructions on where to find those readings (links to Internet sites, on CANVAS or Electronic Course Reserves aka ARES, or located at library desk reserves). The instructor may add new readings such as current events or recent research at any time!
Other Course Materials
In-class course materials include video viewing guides, worksheets, newspaper articles, discussion guides, speaker presentations, and quizzes. PowerPoint slides, when used, will be available on Canvas after class. Be prepared to take notes. Some classes will not use PowerPoint and instead will use videos, viewing guides, large and small group discussions, activities, and worksheets. If you miss class, get notes from a classmate.

Exams: (Two in-class exams @ 100 points each = 200 points) The format will include short answers, essays/long answers, multiple choice, definitions, and true/false questions. There will not be a study guide.

- What happens if you miss an exam? See policy on make-up exams under Course Policies below.
- When is the final? The final project is the second book analysis that asks you to apply and demonstrate mastery of major course concepts. Treat this project as your final in seriousness and scope.
- Will there be a study guide for exams? Students will be responsible for creating a study guide of their own. The instructor will not provide a study guide.

EXAM POLICIES

- ✓ Be on time (or a little early) and ready to begin.
- ✓ Sit every other seat as much as possible.
- ✓ SILENCE YOUR CELL PHONE. (Do not leave it on vibrate)
✓ Leave all coffee/tea and sports drinks and snacks at home. You may have a water bottle.
✓ Put all bags, cell phones, and any other materials under your desk and not visible.
✓ Use the restroom prior to the test because you will not be dismissed during the test.
✓ Do not wear a hat or cap—this applies to men and women.
✓ Bring a #2 pencil; essays will be written in pencil.
✓ Bring your UF ID; sign the back of the bubble sheet when you take the test.
✓ Do your own work without assistance from others, and affirm that you have followed this honesty policy on the test with your signature.
✓ Come prepared to write!

Meet with the instructor or TA during office hours to review your exams to improve learning and performance on the next exam. Students may not have a cell phone on, take photos, or make notes about their exam.

Final Project Book Analysis (150 points):
This project functions as a final exam. Analyze a book selected from a short reading list, extensively and thoroughly applying the course material.

<tr>
<td>2. IN-CLASS REPORT (25 points): Short written report of your book analysis—bring a hard copy of the report to class. Verbal presentation of your written report in small groups in class. You must be present to get credit. Students arriving late will have points deducted.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. IN CLASS PEER EVALUATION (25 points): Peer evaluations of your contribution to the group discussion; your evaluations of all of your group members’ contributions (forms provided in class); and on-time attendance. You must be present to get credit</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Reflection/Reaction Papers (4@25 points each=100 points).
Four written assignments ask you to reflect on and apply what you are learning from readings and class material. Bring a hard copy that you can use to guide your discussion in small discussion groups in class. Detailed instructions and rubrics will be on Canvas.

- Submit to Canvas on time. Late assignments will not be accepted and therefore you will lose points!
- Bring a hard copy to class.

Reaction Paper #1: “Changing Families & the New Normal—Your Lens” (Canvas and in class)
Reaction Paper #2: “Crossing Borders” (Canvas and in class)
Reaction Paper #3: “Case Analysis and Interventions” (Canvas and in class)
Reaction Paper #4: “Immigration”
In-class Quizzes and Activities (100 points, DUE periodically on unannounced and announced days).

In-class quizzes worth 10 points each throughout the semester at 6 unannounced times. Five quiz grades will count and your lowest quiz grade will be dropped. The quiz may be at the beginning or end of class. It may take different formats—a one-minute reflection paper, open-ended questions asking you to summarize readings or key concepts, or multiple choice or fill in the blank for definitions. Usually you will have 1-3 minutes for the quiz. You MUST keep up with readings, pay attention in class, and be on time to do well on quizzes.

Why have quizzes? The major goal of quizzes is to help you focus in on important content and retain this for exams.

In-class activities are scheduled throughout the semester. There are many in-class assignments worth 10 points and five of these will be selected to count toward your total points. The formats include activities and worksheets, small-group discussions and reports, and videos and viewing guides. The goals of in-class work are to

- Develop awareness of and empathy for family issues through discussion and reflection on case examples
- Help you see how course concepts appear in family life
- Encourage discussion and exchange of ideas with peers
- Focus on key concepts or issues and prepare for exam questions

To be a top-notch performer:

- Keep up with the course readings and comment on these in class.
- Participate actively in class activities and discussions.
- Be curious: ask questions of speakers and the instructor.
- Knowledgeably answer questions if called upon.

Extra Credit

Getting to know you (GTKY) (may do ONLY ONCE – can add 5 points to your total grade). Please come to meet with me in my office for a 10-15-minute visit and go over your GTKY paper that you download and print from Canvas assignments. Sign up in class for appointments during the first few weeks of class. Let me know if you cannot make any of the available times and I will work with you to set up a time that fits your schedule. To get the extra credit, you must complete this assignment by October 3 unless the instructor indicates there is an extension. If you sign up to attend a session and do not come to the session or arrive late, it may not be possible to reschedule, so make sure to show up or cancel the appointment if you are unable to attend.

Course Policies

Classroom Demeanor
The most important thing in my class is respect for each other and the instructor. Everything else falls into place from there. Nevertheless, to spell this out more specifically, please...

- Be on time and ready to work; this shows punctuality and reliability, which are great work force skills and important for job recommendations! Please do not walk out of the classroom early; this is rude and disruptive. If you are ill or have a university-sponsored excuse, please let me know at the beginning of class.
- Keep the dialogue respectful of your peers and the instructor. Talking about families is not easy. Be sure to be objective, nonjudgmental, and non-confrontational. Show you care, understand, accept, and respect. These are essential skills for working in helping and health care professions.
- Put aside distractions and be ready to participate in class. Turn off your cell phone. Keep conversations with others at a minimum during class time. Multitasking actually works against deep learning. Uni-task instead!
- Use a computer or tablet for note taking but not for emailing, posting/reading social media, listening to music, checking game scores, shopping, or anything else. You may not realize this, but I can see. I will ask students who are using devices for other purposes to put them away completely. Continuing to ignore this instruction will result in loss of points for in-class work.

NOTE: Poor classroom behavior has several possible results: a warning; a meeting with the instructor; the loss of participation points; referral to the Dean; or removal from class if necessary, per UF policy.

Course Communication

1. Check your ufl email and the Canvas announcements page every day for notices about class.
2. When emailing, please use the Canvas website and use only your .ufl account. I will not respond to emails from g-mail or another server/provider. If you have not received a reply, please email again or see the instructor after class.
3. Come by during office hours to discuss concerns, resolve questions about grades, or talk about course material. I would prefer to talk about concerns in person.

Attendance policies

General
The UF’s attendance policy is followed for this course, as found at https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/. Students are responsible for satisfying all academic objectives as defined by the instructor. Absences count from the first class meeting. In general, acceptable reasons for absence from or failure to participate in class include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements (e.g., judging trips, field trips, professional conferences), military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition or debate. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused. Other reasons also may be approved. Students shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up the material or activities covered in their absence.

Students cannot participate in classes unless they are registered officially or approved to audit with evidence of having paid audit fees. The Office of the University Registrar provides official class rolls to instructors.

If a student does not participate in at least one of the first two class meetings of a course or laboratory in which they are registered, and he or she has not contacted the department to indicate his or her intent, the student can be dropped from the course. Students must not assume that they will be dropped, however. The department will notify students if they have been dropped from a course or laboratory.

The university recognizes the right of the individual professor to make attendance mandatory. After due warning, professors can prohibit further attendance and subsequently assign a failing grade for excessive absences (emphasis added).” For this class, attendance is expected and will be taken often; participation points are also earned from attending class and completing in-class assignments or quizzes. It’s simple: when you come to class you earn points toward your grade.

Excused absences
The excused absence policy is consistent with university policies that can be found at https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/. Excused absences include religious holidays, medically excused absences for illness, and approved university activities for up to 12 days. It is very important for you to understand that you are required to provide written, professional documentation (only for reasons approved by the University as found at https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/#absences). You must provide this before your absence (for religious holidays and approved activities) or immediately upon return to class (illness). Be sure to review this policy for illness policy, religious holidays, the 12-day rule, and other policies.

Late Assignments Policy
The instructor will not accept late assignments unless there is an approved excused absence per UF policy discussed above. You must submit your assignments to Canvas on time and bring a hard copy to class if requested.

Policy on Make-up Work
● Students will have one week to complete any makeup assignment. Students are responsible for getting notes from a peer, asking the instructor about missed work, setting a deadline, and working with the TA or instructor to turn in the work.
● Students must arrange with the instructor to make up any assigned material including tests and written work. This must be approved by the instructor of the course in writing.
● Students who know of their absences in advance (e.g., athletes, conference presenters) must work with the instructor in advance of absences to arrange the time and instructions for make-up work. Athletes should provide their schedule for the semester within the first two weeks of class. Others should provide a written request from the organization on letterhead at least two weeks in advance.
● Students must provide written, professional, verifiable proof of their need to miss the assignment that is consistent with UF attendance policies.
Services for Students with Disabilities

UF policy states that students with disabilities requesting accommodations are required to speak to the instructor in person! Please see the instructor about accommodations ASAP so we can make arrangements. Students with disabilities should follow the procedure required by the DRC (below) as early as possible in the semester. The UF Catalog states,

“The Disability Resource Center coordinates the needed accommodations of students with disabilities. This includes registering disabilities, recommending academic accommodations within the classroom, accessing special adaptive computer equipment, providing interpretation services and mediating faculty-student disability related issues. Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation

- 0001 Reid Hall, 352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/

Academic Honesty

I will vigorously uphold the UF academic policies at all times. Students are expected to do their own work, use their own words in papers, and reference outside sources properly, specifically following APA guidelines (APA Publication Manual, 6th Ed.). Students who do not follow APA guidelines for quoting others’ material and who violate the University’s plagiarism policy will receive a zero for the assignment and will be referred the Dean of Students Office and the student judicial court.

- Complete all written work yourself, independently, without input about your work and words from others in any form (text, email, social media post or message, etc.).
- Turn in all your written work to Canvas through the Turn-It-In Anti-Plagiarism software. If you do not submit your written work to Canvas/Turn-It-In by the deadline posted on Canvas, your assignment will not be accepted, and you will lose the points for that assignment.

According to the UF policy, “As a student at the University of Florida, you have committed yourself to uphold the Honor Code, which includes the following pledge: ‘We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.’ You are expected to exhibit behavior consistent with this commitment to the UF academic community, and on all work submitted for credit at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: ‘On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.’”

It is assumed that you will complete all work independently in each course unless the instructor provides explicit permission for you to collaborate on course tasks (e.g. assignments, papers, quizzes, exams). Furthermore, as part of your obligation to uphold the Honor Code, you should report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. It is your individual responsibility to know and comply with all university policies and procedures regarding academic integrity and the Student Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code at the University of Florida will not be tolerated. Violations will be reported to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of disciplinary action. For more information regarding the Student Honor Code, please see: http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code.

Violations will be reported to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of disciplinary action. For more information regarding the Student Honor Code, please see: http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code.
Academic dishonesty includes plagiarism, defined in the University Honor Code. “A student shall not represent as the student’s own work all or any portion of the work of another. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to: (1) Quoting oral or written materials including but not limited to those found on the internet, whether published or unpublished, without proper attribution; (2) Submitting a document or assignment which in whole or in part is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment not authored by the student.” (http://www.dso.ufl.edu/scr/honorcodes/honorcode.php.

Campus Helping Resources

Students experiencing concerns, crises, or problems that interfere with their general wellbeing are encouraged to utilize the university’s counseling resources. The Counseling & Wellness Center provides confidential counseling services at no cost for currently enrolled students. Resources are available on campus for students having personal problems or lacking clear career or academic goals, which interfere with their academic performance.

Student Complaint Process

Students wishing to file a complaint about the course should seek help from the appropriate resource located through the following link: Residential Course: https://www.dso.ufl.edu/documents/UF_Complaints_policy.pdf

Online Course Evaluation Process

Student assessment of instruction is an important part of efforts to improve teaching and learning. At the end of the semester, students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course using a standard set of university and college criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at https://evaluations.ufl.edu. Evaluations are typically open for students to complete during the last two or three weeks of the semester; students will be notified of the specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results.

Software Use
All faculty, staff and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate.

Materials and Supplies Fees
There are no additional fees for this course.
